Class:

Assalamu 'alaykum, young reader!

This book will help you read, understand and love the last ten surahs of the Qur'an. Each surah has three pages:

1. Understand

A picture, what the surah is about, a story from the Sunnah, a "Did you know?" fact, and a QR code to listen at home.

2. Read & Recite

Every Arabic word with its pronunciation and meaning in the same colour, then the full meaning in English and Urdu.

3. Practise

Trace key Arabic words, solve a word search, do an activity and collect your progress stars.

At the back: flashcards to cut out, a class star chart and your certificate.

For the teacher

- The surahs go from An-Nas (114) back to Al-Fil (105), the order children usually memorise them in.
- Arabic text: Tanzil Project Uthmani text (tanzil.net). Word-by-word meanings: quran.com. Please check against your printed mushaf before teaching, and teach recitation by listening; the English pronunciation is only a helper.
- Stories from the Sunnah are taken only from Sahih al-Bukhari, Sahih Muslim, or narrations graded sahih, with the reference under each story.
- Pictures show only skies, nature, buildings and objects. They contain no people, faces or animals.
- Print on A4, colour, "Actual size / 100%", with background graphics switched on.

Surah An-Naas

"People / Mankind"

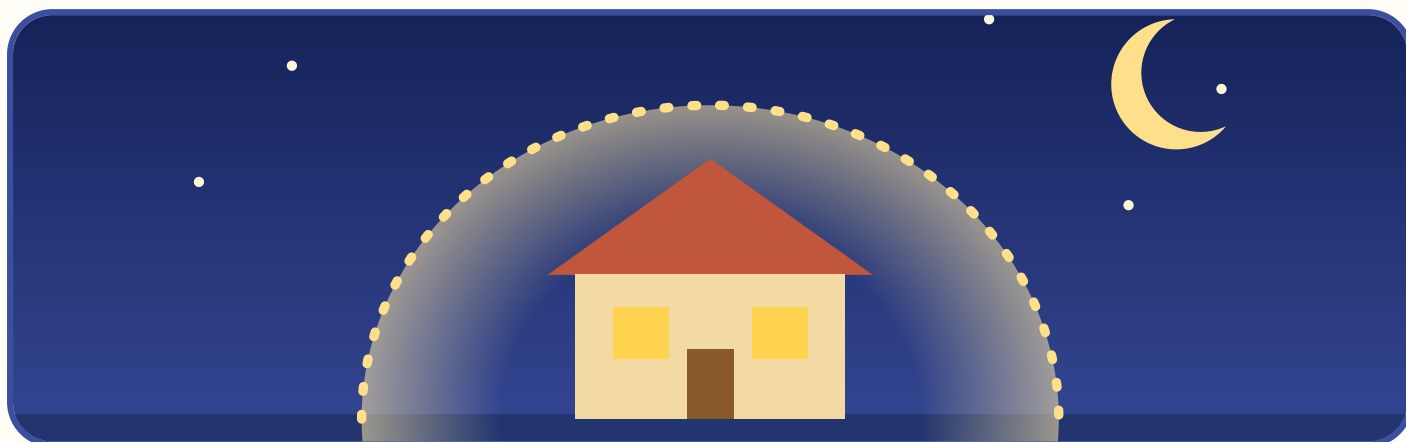

سُورَةُ النَّاسِ

Surah No. 114

6 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

In this surah Allah teaches us a special prayer for protection. We ask Allah, the Lord, King and God of all people, to keep us safe from Shaytan, who whispers bad ideas into our hearts and then hides away when we remember Allah.

Story from the Sunnah: Aisha's loving care

Whenever the Prophet ﷺ fell ill, he would recite Al-Falaq and An-Nas, blow gently over himself and wipe his hands over his body. In his last illness he was too weak to do it himself. So his wife Aisha (may Allah be pleased with her) recited the two surahs for him and gently wiped his own blessed hand over his body, just as he used to do.

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 4439

Did you know?

Before going to sleep, the Prophet ﷺ would recite Al-Ikhlās, Al-Falaq and An-Nas, blow gently into his cupped hands and wipe them over his body, three times. (Sahih al-Bukhari)

What I learn

- Allah is the Lord, the King and the God of every person.
- When a bad thought comes, say A'ūdhu billāh and it goes away.
- Remembering Allah keeps Shaytan far from us.

Surah Al-Falaq

"The Daybreak"

سُورَةُ الْفَلَقِ

Surah No. 113

5 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

Just as Allah makes the bright morning break through the dark night, He can remove every fear. In this surah we ask Allah, the Lord of the daybreak, to protect us from harmful things, from the dangers of the dark night, from magic, and from people who are jealous of us.

Story from the Sunnah: Verses like no others

One day the Prophet ﷺ said to his companion 'Uqbah ibn 'Amir: "Have you not seen the verses sent down tonight? Nothing like them has ever been seen!" Then he named them: Qul a'ūdhu bi-rabbil-falaq and Qul a'ūdhu bi-rabbin-nās. These two surahs became the believers' special words of protection.

Source: Sahih Muslim 814

Did you know?

Al-Falaq and An-Nas are called al-Mu'awwidhatayn, the surahs of protection. The Prophet ﷺ taught us to recite them with Al-Ikhlās three times every morning and evening. (Abu Dawud 5082)

What I learn

- Allah is stronger than every danger, so we only ask Him for protection.
- We should never be jealous; we ask Allah to bless others too.
- Read Al-Falaq in the morning and evening.

Surah Al-Ikhlaas

"Sincerity / Pure Faith"

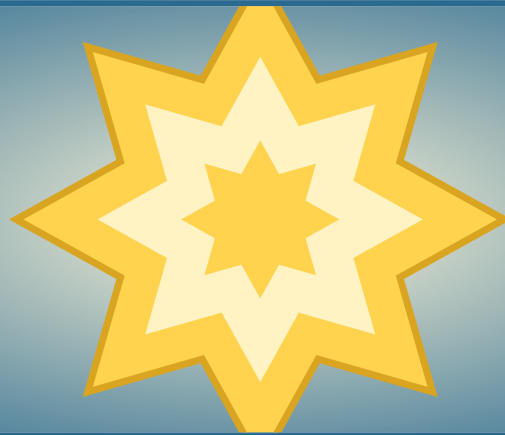

سُورَةُ الْإِخْلَاصِ

Surah No. 112

4 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

This short surah tells us who Allah is. Allah is One. Everyone and everything needs Him, but He needs nothing. He has no parents and no children, and nothing at all is like Him.

Story from the Sunnah: The man who loved Al-Ikhlās

The Prophet ﷺ sent a group of companions on a journey. Their leader led them in prayer, and every time he ended his recitation with Qul huwa Allāhu aḥad. When they returned, they told the Prophet ﷺ, who said, "Ask him why he does that." The man said, "Because it describes the Most Merciful, and I love to recite it." The Prophet ﷺ said: "Tell him that Allah loves him!"

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 7375

Did you know?

The Prophet ﷺ said that Surah Al-Ikhlās is equal to one third of the whole Qur'an! (Sahih al-Bukhari)

What I learn

- Allah is only One, with no partner.
- When I need anything, I ask Allah.
- Nothing in the world is like Allah.

Surah Al-Masad

"The Palm-Fibre Rope"

سُورَةُ الْمَسَدِ

Surah No. 111

5 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

Abu Lahab was an uncle of the Prophet ﷺ, but he was one of his worst enemies. When the Prophet ﷺ climbed Mount Safa and called people to Allah, Abu Lahab shouted at him rudely. His wife also hurt the Prophet ﷺ, putting thorns on his path. Allah told us that their money and power would not save them.

Story from the Sunnah: The call from Mount Safa

The Prophet ﷺ climbed Mount Safa and called out loudly, and the people of Makkah gathered. He asked, "If I told you an army was coming from behind this mountain, would you believe me?" They said, "We have never heard you tell a lie." He said, "Then I am warning you of a severe punishment ahead." Abu Lahab shouted, "May you perish! Is this why you gathered us?" Then Allah revealed this surah.

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 4971

Did you know?

Allah revealed that Abu Lahab would end up in the Fire. He lived for years after this surah and could have simply said "I believe" to prove it wrong, but he never did, exactly as Allah said.

What I learn

- Being related to good people is not enough; my own actions matter.
- Money cannot buy Allah's pleasure.
- We must never hurt or bully anyone.

Surah An-Nasr

"The Help / Victory"

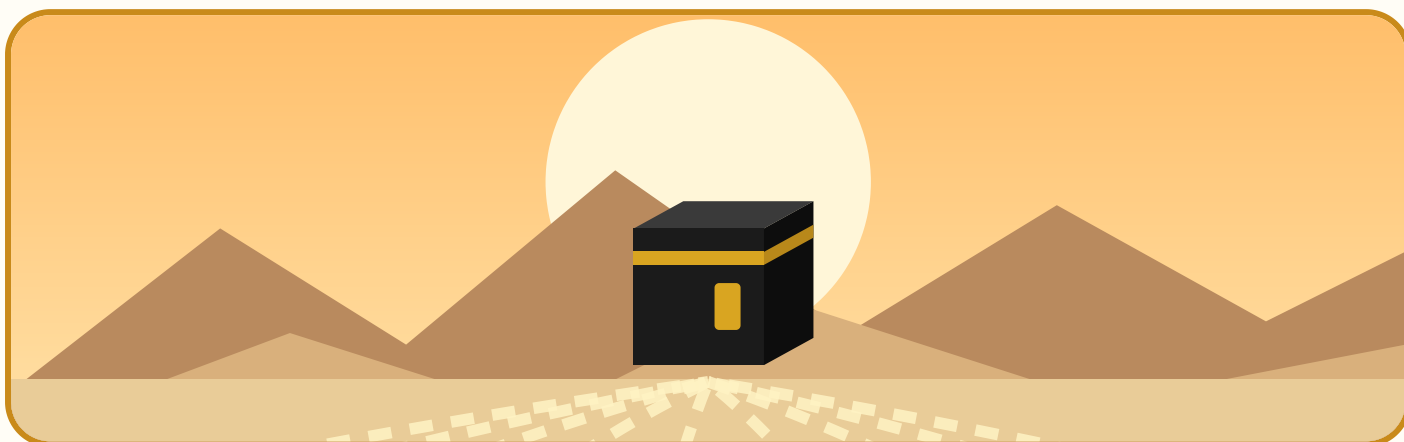

سُورَةُ النَّصْرِ

Surah No. 110

3 Ayahs

Revealed in Madinah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

After many years of patience, Allah gave the Muslims victory and Makkah was opened. Then people started coming into Islam in big groups! Allah told the Prophet ﷺ that when this happens, he should praise Allah and ask for His forgiveness, because Allah always accepts those who turn back to Him.

Story from the Sunnah: The Prophet's ﷺ special dhikr

After Surah An-Nasr was revealed, Aisha noticed that in every prayer the Prophet ﷺ would say: Subhānaka Rabbanā wa bi-ḥamdik, Allāhumma-ghfir lī. It means: "Glory be to You, our Lord, and all praise is Yours. O Allah, forgive me." He was doing exactly what the surah teaches: praising Allah and asking forgiveness. We can say it in our rukū' and sujūd too!

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 4967, 4968

Did you know?

An-Nasr was one of the last surahs revealed to the Prophet ﷺ. (Sahih Muslim)

What I learn

- Every success comes from Allah.
- When I win or do well, I say SubhanAllah and Alhamdulillah.
- I ask Allah for forgiveness every day: Astaghfirullah.

Surah No. 109

6 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

Scholars of tafsir mention that some leaders of Makkah came to the Prophet ﷺ with a deal: "You worship our idols for a while, and we will worship your Lord for a while." Allah sent this surah as the answer. A Muslim worships only Allah. We are kind to everyone, but we never mix our worship with anything else.

Story from the Sunnah: A surah before sleeping

The Prophet ﷺ told his companion Nawfal: "Recite Qul yā ayyuhal-kāfirūn, then go to sleep at its end, for it is a declaration of freedom from shirk." So a Muslim can end the day by declaring with the last words on the tongue: I worship Allah alone!

Source: Sunan Abi Dawud 5055 (graded sahih by al-Albani)

Did you know?

The Prophet ﷺ often recited Al-Kafirun and Al-Ikhlās in the two sunnah rak'ahs before Fajr. (Sahih Muslim)

What I learn

- I worship Allah alone, always.
- I stay firm on my deen even if others do not.
- I can be kind and fair to people of other faiths.

Surah No. 108

3 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

When the Prophet's ﷺ baby sons passed away, his enemies mocked him and said he would be forgotten. Allah comforted him: "We have given you al-Kawthar!" Al-Kawthar is a river in Jannah, with a pool where the believers will drink. So the Prophet ﷺ was told to pray and sacrifice for Allah. It is his enemies who are forgotten, while his name is remembered every day.

Story from the Sunnah: Why did the Prophet ﷺ smile?

One day the Prophet ﷺ was sitting with his companions when he dozed off for a moment. He raised his head, smiling. "Why are you smiling, O Messenger of Allah?" they asked. He said, "A surah has just been revealed to me," and recited Al-Kawthar. Then he explained that al-Kawthar is a river in Jannah his Lord has promised him, with a pool his ummah will come to on the Day of Judgement.

Source: Sahih Muslim 400

Did you know?

Al-Kawthar is the shortest surah in the Qur'an: only 3 ayahs and 10 words! The Prophet ﷺ said the cups at his pool are as many as the stars. (Sahih Muslim)

What I learn

- Allah gives us so much good; we should be thankful.
- When people make fun of us, Allah is with us.
- I pray my salah for Allah alone.

Surah No. 107

7 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

This surah describes a person who does not truly believe in the Day of Judgement. He pushes away the orphan, does not care if poor people are hungry, is careless about his salah, only does good to show off, and refuses even small help to others. Allah teaches us to be the opposite!

Story from the Sunnah: Close to the Prophet ﷺ in Jannah

Our Prophet ﷺ was himself an orphan. His father died before he was born, and his mother when he was six, so he knew how an orphan feels. He said: "I and the one who looks after an orphan will be like this in Paradise," and he held up his index finger and middle finger, close together.

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 5304

Did you know?

Al-Ma'un means small, everyday help, like lending a cooking pot, a bucket or some salt to a neighbour.

What I learn

- I am gentle and kind to orphans.
- I share my food with people who are hungry.
- I pray on time, for Allah and not to show off.
- Even a small help counts with Allah.

Surah No. 106

4 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

Quraysh was the tribe of the Prophet ﷺ in Makkah. Allah blessed them with safe trade journeys: to Yemen in the winter and to Sham (Syria) in the summer. Allah gave them food when they were hungry and safety when they were afraid. So Allah tells them: worship the Lord of this House, the Ka'bah!

Story from the Sunnah: Ibrahim's du'a for Makkah

Long ago, Prophet Ibrahim left his wife Hajar and baby Isma'il in the empty valley of Makkah, trusting Allah, and Allah gave them the water of Zamzam. Years later, Ibrahim and Isma'il built the Ka'bah together: Isma'il brought the stones and Ibrahim built. Ibrahim prayed: "My Lord, make this a safe city and provide its people with fruits." Allah answered, and that is why Quraysh had food and safety!

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 3364; Qur'an 2:126

Did you know?

Because Quraysh lived near the Ka'bah, people respected them and their caravans could travel safely.

What I learn

- Every meal I eat is a gift from Allah.
- Feeling safe at home is a blessing from Allah.
- The way to thank Allah is to worship Him.

"The Elephant"

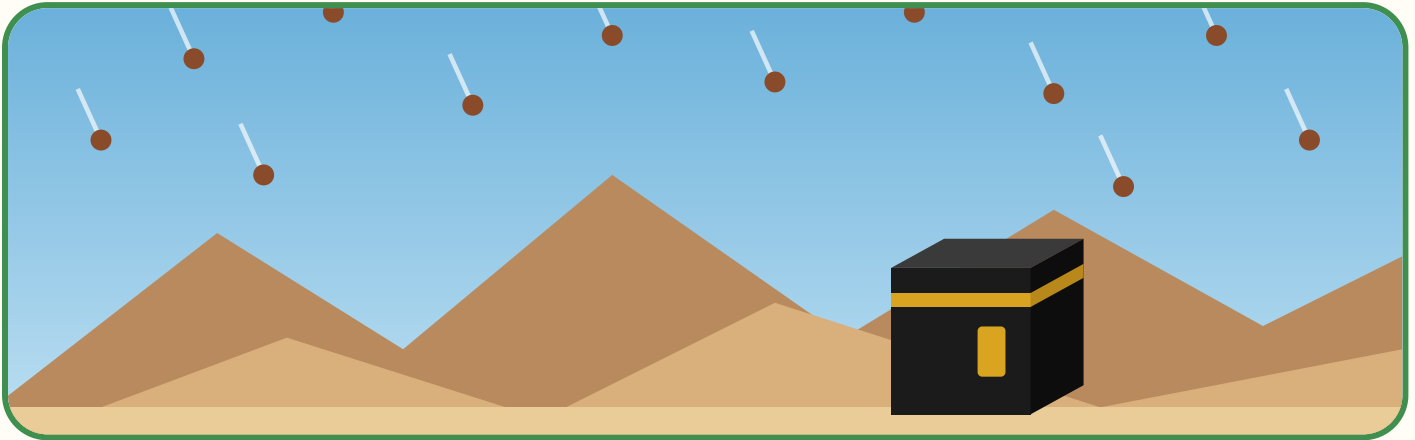

سُورَةُ الْفِيلِ

Surah No. 105

5 Ayahs

Revealed in Makkah

Juz 30

What is this surah about?

A king named Abraha came from Yemen with a huge army and elephants to destroy the Ka'bah. The people of Makkah could not stop him. But Allah protected His House! He sent flocks of birds carrying small stones of baked clay, and the mighty army was destroyed, left like chewed-up straw.

Story from the Sunnah: The camel that would not move

Many years after the Year of the Elephant, the Prophet ﷺ was travelling towards Makkah. Near Hdaybiyah his camel, al-Qaswā', sat down and would not get up. People said, "She has become stubborn!" The Prophet ﷺ said, "She is not stubborn; that is not her habit. She was stopped by the One who stopped the elephant." The same Allah who stopped Abraha is always in control!

Source: Sahih al-Bukhari 2731

Did you know?

This happened in the same year the Prophet ﷺ was born. That is why it is called the Year of the Elephant.

What I learn

- Allah protects His House, the Ka'bah.
- No army is stronger than Allah.
- Proud people who want to do harm will fail.
